Seeking senior fullstack web developer or team lead position

Skills

Leadership, Analyst, Architecture, UX
As team lead, I have experience leading a successful and significant multi-year project throughout all phases: conception, design, team building, implementation, testing, deployment, and maintenance.

Front-end development
Senior-level experience not just with the latest front-end frameworks such as Angular, Reach, and Vue, but I have the deep experience of the web-as-a-platform that can only come from being a web developer for literally decades.

Back-end development
Experience with Node, Java, PHP, Python, and various frameworks. Strong with REST and GraphQL apis. Deep experience with SQL and NoSQL database query performance, architecture, and design. Strong skills with web application security, authentication, and authorization including JWT. Learning data science and machine learning.

Experience

5 years - management, project lead, business analytics
>20 years - programming projects with a wide variety of languages and technologies
>18 years - databases
>10 years - staffing and human resources
6 years - education, instruction, and related (including volunteer work)
